Choosing your content checklist:

- Title: Make it compelling and use at least 72 pt. font.
- Include name, contact information, course number (optional), and UT logo.
- Research question or hypothesis: Do not copy your abstract if it is included in a conference program.
- Methodology: What is the research process? Explain how you did your research.
- If you conducted interviews, include the questions.
- Observations: What did you see? Why is this important?
- Findings: What did you learn? Summarize your conclusions.
- Themes: Pull out themes in the literature and list in bullet points.
- A brief narrative of what you learned - what was the most interesting/surprising aspect of the project?
- Interesting quotes from the research.
- Data: Use your data to generate charts or tables.
- Images: Include images – take your own photos or legally use others.
- Recommendations and/or next steps for future research.
- Citations: Only list 3-5 on the poster. If more, put them on a handout.
- Acknowledgments: Don’t forget to thank your advisor, department, or funding agency.

*Required. Everything else is optional - you decide what is important!"
